SCCTM Needs Student Pages for the 2019 Conference

Each year the South Carolina Council of Teachers of Mathematics (SCCTM) hosts a conference for PK-College math educators in South Carolina. The 2019 SCCTM Conference is November 14 – 15 at the Greenville Convention Center in Greenville, SC.

We need college students to volunteer during the conference.

Any pre-service teacher who is interested in attending can receive free registration and a free one-year membership by signing up to volunteer by October 15. Our pre-service volunteers are called "Student Pages". Student Pages commit to volunteering at the conference for at least two 2-hour blocks of time. During this time, Student Pages help presenters ensure that their presentation rooms are set up, help SCCTM officers with their duties, and help direct participants to specific rooms. When not volunteering, Pages can attend sessions and the exhibit hall.

This is a wonderful, free opportunity for to engage with and learn from a professional community of mathematics teachers. This is also a great item to list on your resume and to mention during upcoming job interviews. Student Pages who volunteer by October 15, will receive benefits for serving include FREE Conference Registration, FREE lunch, a FREE t-shirt, and a FREE 1-year SCCTM membership.

The MathMate

The Mathmate Name Change?

The Mathmate has been the name of the official SCCTM journal for many years. Do you think it is time for a name change? Be thinking about this and at this year's conference you will have the opportunity to make a suggestion.
